

EPC Locarno Co-production Forum Call for Projects

Dear Sir, Madam

In partnership with:

The Locarno International Film Festival
The Media Programme
The Procirep

The European Producers Club (EPC) is launching a call for projects for its next Coproduction Forum, to be held during the Locarno International Film Festival 2010, on Saturday, August 7th, from 10 am to 2 pm.

As part of our efforts to strengthen the European film industry, the EPC yearly organises four Coproduction Forums aimed at offering producers developing a project the possibility to meet a range of film professionals (co-producers, distributors, sales agents, etc.) based on their project's needs.

If selected, you will have the opportunity to:

- Meet individually a wide variety of film professionals according to your project's needs, including producers, sales agents, distributors, film commissions, etc.
- Participate in the other EPC Forums organised during the year, in the frame of the major European Film Festivals, as your project will be automatically selected.
- Benefit from the support of the EPC in-between events.

In order to participate, you may send us your project using the application form provided in our website under the section "Application Form": www.europeanproducersclub.org

Conditions:

- Producers with, at least, two films produced and released in movie theatres are eligible
- A selected project will be automatically chosen in following events (only under producer's approval and confirmation)
- When selected, participants will be charged a participation fee of 200€ / Forum (free of charge for EPC and ECN Members)
- Be advised that some participants will have their accomodation covered thanks to a partnership the EPC sealed with the Locarno International Film Festival
- Deadline: July 9th, 2010

Since 2002, the EPC has successfully organised 42 Co-Production Forums, involving over 3,000 participants.

In the first two 2010 Forums, 51 projects from 19 countries were presented. Our goal to provide a suitable number of meetings for each project was well met, since 437 meetings or contacts were set up on these two events between professionals from 26 countries. In the past, selected projects included some award-winning directors such as Peter Greenaway, Agnieszka Holland and Renny Harlin, and recently released films such as Il Divo by Paolo Sorrentino, and Lemon Tree by Eran Riklis.
